

Stop already with the catering to special interests! XM is simply doing what the market demands -- providing a service that is in demand but not being adequately supplied by local markets. Show me one radio station in any metropolitan area that provides 24/7 traffic and I'll shut up. You can't. So why can the same broadcasters who created the lack of supply to be rewarded? Just say no to the special interest money and do the right thing! Please!